

I am totally against relaxing the rules on broadcast station ownership. Radio stations especially don't have any local content anymore since the last rule change and push the political beliefs of the corporation owners on a large section of the public who don't realize they are being preached to by the CEO's of large corporations.